

Klaude Walters

Klaude endeavours to empower women to follow their own dreams through the power of visualization and affirmation practices. These have always been the secret to her success, and she strives to share these techniques with other creative women. She wants as many women as possible to experience the joy of creation. As a self publishing coach, Klaude has helped many make their dreams come true. All it takes is the will to awaken the giant within you!